AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT CAUSES DEATH AND INJURY.

In an automobile accident which occurred on the Hume and Bedford pike, three miles from Paris about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, Mr. J. W. Pace, aged fifty-five, of Winchester, and one of the best-known stockmen in Central Kentucky, was instantly killed, and D. G. Taylor, of Paris, and Mr. Marcus Lisle, of Winchester, Mr. Pace's partner, were badly bruised. The accident occurred on an incline near the home of Mr. William Kenney Ferguson.

Mr. Pace, Mr. Lisle and Mr. Taylor had been in the county on a tour of inspection, and had just returned from Mr. Taylor's place, where they had been inspecting a bunch of cattle. They were in two machines, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Lisle in a Ford roadster, and Mr. Pace and Mr. Younger Osborne, of Clark county, in a Buick. The machine in which Messrs. Taylor and Lisle were riding was in front, while Mr. Pace and Mr. Osborne were in the rear with their machine. Mr. Osborne, who was driving the Buick, in some unaccountable manner, lost control of his car, which swerved from the road and plunged into the Ford in front of them, throwing it across the pike, where it crashed into a wire fence. The force of the impact caused the machine to be forced through the fence into a small clump of locust trees growing near the edge of the pike. Both Taylor and Lisle were thrown from the machine, when it turned over on its side. Mr. Lisle was severely bruised, but not seriously injured. Mr. Taylor also sustained severe cuts and bruises, but no bones were broken. The car driven by Mr. Osborne continued on its way until it struck a tree, when it also turned over. Seeing that the accident was inevitable, Mr. Pace attempted to jump from the car, but the sidelong rapid motion threw him out on the pike, landing on his head. His skull was fractured, causing death instantly. Mr. Osborne remained in his car, and escaped unhurt.

Coroner Rudolph Davis was notified by telephone and immediately came to the scene, where he made a thorough investigation. The injured men were taken back to the home of Mr. Taylor, where the received attention. The body of Mr. Pace was brought in the Davis ambulance to the undertaking establishment of Mr. Geo. W. Davis, where it was prepared for burial and sent to his late home in Winchester.

Mr. Pace was the Republican member of the Clark county election board and was prominent in the business life of Clark county. He was a member of the stock buying firm of Pace & Lisle. He had just been appointed to the position of election commissioner by the State Election Board. He is survived by his widow, who was before her marriage Miss Laura Daniels, of near Winchester, and four sons, Messrs. Robert Pace and W. E. Pace, both of Iowa, John D. Pace, of St. Louis, Mo., and Chester Pace, who resided with his parents at the home near Winchester, also by one sister, Mrs. Mary Risk, of Nicholasville, and five brothers, Messrs. R. F. and Murray Pace, of Clark county, Crittenden Pace, of Covington, and John and Thomas Pace, of Illinois.

The funeral was held in Winchester yesterday afternoon, with services conducted at the family residence. The burial followed in the Winchester Cemetery in the presence of one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the city of the dead.

AS TO EXEMPTION.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, in its Saturday issue, commenting on the use or abuse for exemption on account of being farmers, made by so many young men of Central Kentucky, has the following regarding Mr. Cassius M. Clay, Jr., of Paris:

"Mr. Cassius M. Clay, Jr., one of Bourbon's wealthiest and successful young farmers, a son of the late Cassius M. Clay, of Auvergne Farm, has gone to Ft. Benj. Harrison to join the Officers' Reserve Training Camp. 'There are some farmers who wish to be exempted because they are farmers. There are some who beg to be excused from farming when there is an opportunity to fight. The Clays of Bourbon are likely, in any war, to be found in that class last mentioned.'"

NO MORE ARMY OFFICERS FROM CIVILIAN LIFE

Enlisted men of the National Army, National Guard and Regular Army will be given every opportunity to fit themselves for commission. This is in line with the fixed policy of the Government to take no more officers or officer candidates from civilian life after the second series of Officers' Training Camps now in progress has been completed. Thereafter all additional officers needed will be found in the ranks of the various branches of the war army. To carry out this plan, it virtually has been decided to establish an officers' school at each of the divisional training camps. Men in ranks showing special qualification will be sent to these schools.

TEACHERS FOR COMING SCHOOL TERM.

The faculty of the Paris City School, which opened its doors for the school term of 1917-1918 yesterday, will be as follows: T. A. Hendricks, Superintendent; Mrs. E. L. Harris, Miss Blanche Lilleston and Miss Mary Layton, first grade teachers; Misses Sallie Whaley and Mason Talbott, second grade; Mrs. E. L. Stone and Miss Bessie Purnell, third grade; Misses Elizabeth Lenihan and Lena Talbott, fourth grade; Misses Daisy Detwiler and Claire Brannon, fifth grade; Misses Julia Clarke and Anna Farrell, sixth grade; Miss Lavallette Ranson (new) reading, writing and spelling; Mrs. Ada Fishback (new) mathematics and language; Miss Jessie Crisp, eighth grade, history, geography and civics; Miss Flora Ray (new) commercial department.

The High School faculty will be composed of the following: Prof. E. T. Proctor, principal; Mr. Clark White, mathematics; Miss Frances Butler, science; Mrs. E. T. Proctor, English; Mr. Bowers (new) history and civics; Mr. Burnett (new) manual training; Miss Leora Wiard, music; Mrs. Evelyn Buck, art and drawing; Miss Miriam Curry, physical education and physiology; Mrs. Lizzie Walker, truant officer; W. O. Fuller, engineer.

SEPTEMBER COURT DAY.

From a business viewpoint yesterday was not a "good court day," except in the matter of attendance. There was a large crowd on the streets, but little stock on the market. Although the demand was good trading was slow. The country people devoted most of their time to discussing crops, war and politics.

Charles Thompson, of Lexington, bought one pair of mules at $500 and one mule at $200; Dabney Renaker, of Cynthiana, purchased eight weanling mules at $45 per head; Wayne Anderson, of Montgomery county purchased a brown saddle mare for $165 and another for $140; Reynolds Letton sold four shorthorns and heifer calf from his herd to E. Wagoner for $750; Lew Taylor bought four fine Southdown bucks from A. S. Thompson at $30 per head; Nathan Bayless bought of Reynolds Letton twenty 100-lb. shoats at $15 per hundred. At M. J. Murphy & Co.'s stock pens six cows and calves sold for $65 to $85; Gilbert & Powell, of Winchester, sold 450 head of mountain sheep at public sale to different purchasers at prices ranging from $11.00 to $11.70 per head; Caywood, Smith & McClintock bought five mules at $175 per head; Caywood & McClintock sold 90 head of sheep to John Roseberry for $12.50 per head, and 50 head to other parties at the same price.

COMMUNITY GARDEN BOYS HAVE BIG TIME.

Thirty-three boys, who have been operating the "community garden" on the Spears lot in the old Fair Grounds Addition to Paris, were entertained Saturday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. from 2:30 to 4:00, at the invitation of Lieut. Catesby Spears, who donated the use of the four acres comprising the garden, also furnishing the seed planted by the young gardeners.

The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Harriet Minaker, Visiting Nurse for the Bourbon County Health and Welfare League, who had supervised the young workers in the field.

Mrs. Minaker was assisted by Miss Mary Spears, Mrs. McIntyre, Mrs. M. H. Dalley, Mrs. Isaac L. Price, Mrs. H. A. Power, Mrs. J. A. Gilkey, Mrs. Eddie Spears Hinton and Mrs. Denis Dundon.

Prizes amounting to $25 were awarded as follows: Wm. McIntyre, $10; Albert Wright, $5; Russell Lenox, Jammie Turner, George Dundon and John Dundon, $2.50 each, for having made the best showing in their garden spots. A cap donated by I. L. Price was awarded to Billie Lytle, the youngest boy, and a shirt waist to Herman Blythe. Marion Gilkey was presented with a prize of $2 by friends who had been interested in his work.

The boys enjoyed a plunge in the swimming pool and other pastimes, and the afternoon closed with refreshments of ices and cakes being served. Cheers were given for Lieut. Spears, for Mrs. Minaker, and for Mr. Winn Hutchcraft, who had aided greatly in the work.

PARIS TUREMAN ASKED TO RESELL HORSE.

Mr. Arthur B. Hancock, of Paris, master of the Claiborne Stud, near this city, and the famous Ellerslie Stud, near Charlottesville, Virginia, is in receipt of an inquiry by cable from the British Blooded Stock Agency, of London, England, as to whether or not he would resell the celebrated English thoroughbred stallion, Maiden Erlegh. It was further stated that the inquiry was made on behalf of Mons. Varipati, a Greek buyer.

Mr. Hancock replied by cabling the Agency that he had no desire to part with the stallion, and that he would keep Maiden Erlegh. The famous stallion is expected to arrive in America possibly this fall. With him will come Bessie Melton, a six-year-old daughter of Melton-Bess Orange, by William III; Red Hair, a six-year-old daughter of William Rufus-Ragusa, by Cylene; and Simena's Daughter (eleven-year-old sister of William Rufus and Henry I) by Melton-Simena by Simon.

These animals will be placed on the Claiborne farm of Mr. Hancock, near Paris for a time, and later on sent to the Ellerslie Farm.

THE MELANCHOLY DAYS.

Winter is just around the corner. You will soon have to abandon the veranda. Take advantage of our September sale bargains and fix up for winter. COURT DAY SALES BY AUCTIONEER KENNEY.

Auctioneer M. F. Kenney sold at the court house door in this city yesterday fifteen shares of the capital stock of the Deposit and Peoples' Bank, of this city, at an average of $248 per share. The sales were made to the following: Five shares to Miss Letitia Hedges, at $247 per share; five shares to Robt. Meteer, of Hutchison, at $249 per share; five shares to Lee D. Smith, of Cynthiana, at $250 per share.

Auctioneer Kenney sold at the same place for Master Commissioner O. T. Hinton, the Bourbon county farm of thirty-five acres, located near Shawhan, belonging to the estate of the late Mr. William Trabue, of Arkersville, belonging to Ella Moore, to Mr. Frank P. Kiser, of Paris, for $205 per share. At the same time and place he also sold for the Master Commissioner a house and lot in to Richard Kelley, for $202.

OIL COMPANY INCORPORATED.

Articles incorporating the Paris Oil & Gas Company have been prepared and forwarded to the Secretary of State at Frankfort, for approval. The company is capitalized at $20,000, and is composed of the following: John T. Collins, N. Ford Brent, B. A. Frank, James Caldwell, Buckner Woodford, Thomas Henry Clay and J. Elmer Boardman. The company has leases on valuable oil, gas and mineral lands in Warren county and other proven fields, besides having others on Bourbon and Montgomery counties, where good indications have been found.

DISTRICT BOARD SENDS LIST OF MEN TO GO TO THE FRONT.

The local exemption board yesterday received from the District Board at Lexington the following list of twenty-four men who will constitute the men called to go on the army service to Camp Taylor. Of these twenty-four men between seven and twelve will be selected to go on the first call. The men will be selected from the white list, and none of the colored men will go until a later call. Notices were mailed out to the men last night, advising them of the decision of the District Board, and giving them instructions as to reporting. They will leave in a few days. The list is as follows:

WHITE.

COLORED.

Orville Lee Britton, Charles Henry Butler, Jr., Samuel Biddle, Clarence Tutter, Clarence Henderson, William Huff, M. C. Meynon, Gus Hicklan, John Hampton.

The examination of the last sixty men summoned before the Bourbon County Exemption Board in the third draft call was completed Friday afternoon, resulting in the names of nine men being added to the roll of honor, in waiving exemption claims, while two were discharged as being physically unfit for army service.

The nine men whose names will be added to the others who have expressed a desire to serve their country are:

Robert Henry Miller Hadden, Millersburg, Ky. John Mack Miller, Millersburg. Jesse Richardson, Paris. Charles Milton Curtis, Paris, R. F. D. No. 1. Simon Stout, Paris, Ky. Stanley Walker Shroat, Clintonville.

James Mahaney, Shawhan, Ky. Glenn Rowland, Paris, Ky. Ben Harrison Brown, North Middleton, Ky.

Those who were declared physically unfit were Will Kenney Ferguson and Rupert Garrison, both of Paris. The remainder of the sixty men claimed exemption on account of dependants or as being industrial workers.

These men, together with the others who have waived exemption and others whose claim for exemption may be turned down by the District Board, will be sent to Camp Taylor, at Louisville, where they will go into training for army service.

When the full quota of Bourbon county men has been raised they will be assigned to the 326th Field Artillery, Capt. Shelby T. Harbison and Capt. Clinton M. Harbison, as well as Second Lieutenant Jos. C. Hobbs, of Lexington, have been assigned to duty with the 326th Field Artillery. This division will comprise the following from Central Kentucky: Fayette, 50; Lexington (city), 57; Bourbon, 139; Scott, 127; Franklin, 4; Owen, 90; Harrison, 117; Grant, 71; Pendleton, 58; Gallatin, 30; Campbell, 299; Kenton, 139; Boone, 69; Carroll, 63. Total, 1,472.

The order authorizing this was officially announced Friday by Brig. Gen. Wilder and officially issued by Lieut.-Col. Halstead, in command at Camp Taylor.

Not much time remains for the drafted men to remain at home. Soon they will be leaving for the camp, and nobody knows how soon thereafter the call may come that will send them to France. While it is not a cheerful prospect to contemplate it is well enough to let the men in khaki know at every opportunity that we appreciate the character of the service they have entered upon, and to make these last few days as bright for them as possible. It will be a pleasant memory to them when they be in the trenches in "Sunny France," and the exhibition of such kindness will reflect a benediction upon us.

HEALTH AND WELFARE LEAGUE

The Bourbon County Health and Welfare League will hold a meeting in the County Court room in the court house at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, for the transaction of important business. All the members who can conveniently do so are requested to attend. These meetings will continue through the year and will be held on the first Thursday in each month at the same time and place as indicated above.

AMERICA PREPARED FOR ANY GERMAN MOVE.

Any German attempt to increase submarine frightfulness against the United States because of President Wilson's reply to the Pope will meet new and vigorous measures from this country.

Defensive and offensive measures against the Kaiser's sea pirates recently invented by America's men of genius are responsible for the belief expressed at the Navy Department that the U-boats will fall.

Some believe Germany may plan to launch larger submarines than the $500-ton type.

A secret device for detecting approach of submarines, use of smokeless coal, a scheme of camouflage, depth bombs and other inventions will check the Kaiser's revengefulness, they believe.

The Shipping Board recently let contracts for three government-owned yards in which to fabricate 200 standardized steel merchantmen.

Torpedo boats are conveying merchantmen in groups to Europe from American ports.

The Allied navies are adding scores of new destroyers—the U-boat's worst enemy.

THE PRESIDENT'S STAND ENDORSED BY ENGLAND.

Lord Robert Cecil, Minister of Blockade, indorsed President Wilson's reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict, and said that he was not certain any further response would be necessary.

(This is the first official expression of opinion in regard to the President's note is a very magnificent occurrence," said the Minister in his weekly interview with the Associated Press. "It thrilled us all over here, and the opinions which I heard expressed by representatives of Allied countries were equally warm and appreciative. I am certain that none of the Allies would be able to improve upon it, and I am not certain that any further reply will be necessary.

"There does not appear to be anything inconsistent as between the President's note and the economic policy of the Allies as declared at the Paris conference. The resolution of the Allies were purely defensive measures, and in no way aggressive."

DR. DAVID BARROW RETURNS TO LEXINGTON.

Sudden changes in the plans of the formation of base hospital units and the training of men for this work, and as a result Dr. David Barrow, who went to Washington early last week en route to New York for special work at Rockefeller Institute, has returned to Lexington. His work under Dr. Carrel at Rockefeller has been postponed until about September 10.

No announcement was made by those in charge of the formation of Base Hospital Unit No. 40, during Dr. Barrow's absence, as to any further plans, but it is believed that the definite organization will be accomplished before Dr. Barrow returns to the East on September 10.

GAME WARDENS BUSY.

With the opening of the dove shooting season the State game wardens are on the alert, but so far have had little to report.

State Game Warden Geo. M. Hill, of Paris, was in Winchester and Clark county Saturday, looking after the numerous hunters in the fields, while Deputy Warden Bush Bishop looked after Bourbon and other counties in this section. They state that so far they have found no violation of the game laws, the hunters are all provided with proper licenses and that there had been but one case reported of hunters killing doves out of season.

PARIS ALMOST IMMUNE.

From all reports there has been practically an absence of typhoid fever in Paris this year, due in large part to proper sanitation and good sewerage connections. The few cases that have developed have been of a very mild nature and yielded quickly to treatment.

This phenomenal decrease can be properly attributed to the pure, wholesome water supply and the splendid sewerage system, with a more extensive knowledge and application of the articles of sanitary living acquired by our citizens, acquired by our citizens.

NO SLACKERS HERE.

Mr. Ben Fishback, of Mt. Vernon, brother of Mrs. Clyde Huffman, of Paris, has been accepted as a member of the Aviation Corps of the U. S. Army and has been assigned to duty at Columbus, O., in the training camp. Mr. Vance Huffman, lately of Paris, is also in Columbus, where he is in training as a member of the Field Artillery.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS.

The Country Paper.

One of the most notable facts connected with the country newspaper of to-day is the large increase in the amount of advertising of local business houses. The change has taken place gradually and has been marked especially during the past year or two. It is highly significant and an inquiry as to the cause of it is of great profit, not only to those in the newspaper business, but to every business man and citizen of our town as well.

The change in brief, means that the local merchants have found it necessary to call attention to their goods because of the immense competition they face, the most deadly element of which is that from the great department stores of the cities. These great establishments advertise their wares lavishly, and the metropolitan newspapers which contain their advertisements are distributed over the country, some one paper of which enters into nearly every home. The result is that these metropolitan establishments have built up an immense mail order trade.

In Paris, and indeed in most of the towns around here, there is no occasion for this out-of-town buying (save of course, when you have to go or send to Lexington for your "wet goods.") The duty of Paris citizens in the matter is plain, and where all other things are equal, support should be given to the local dealers. Our merchants have invested their capital here, have erected buildings which are almost metropolitan in their character and service. They have helped to build up Paris, and it is only a fair return that they have the city's trade. To turn trade otherwise, even in the line of small purchases which are great in the aggregate, is to invite the decline of property values in Paris.

How has it happened that no one in Paris has offered to provide "our boys" with a rabbit foot each before they start for the front?

As To Telephone Talk.

Two ladies met at the home of a mutual friend in Paris, (Ky.), the other day. They had not seen each other for one whole day, and naturally they were full of conversation. One of the women lived in the country. In some way the subject of telephones came up. They both had party line telephones, those ingenious machines that enable one to hear all the private conversation intended for some other party on the line.

One of the women was telling about how mean someone in her neighborhood had been. To use her own language, this somebody will "talk to some other fool somebody for half an hour, and never say anything, either, worth listening to, and here I will be nearly wild wanting to get the line to order things from Paris or to tell Tom what I want him to bring home with him. Are you bothered that way?"

The other woman replied: "Well, dear, I used to be, but I am not any more. A friend of mine who is connected with the telephone service told me how to put on a choker, and I will tell you. You may have noticed those two metal knobs at the top of the instrument. Well, they are there whether you have noticed them or not. Now, when somebody has used the line about twice as long as they should, I just connect up those two knobs with a short piece of wire. Then in a minute or two I take off the short circuit and then I can get central. I used to feel as if I wanted to say bad words, but now let the gossips feel that way."

There may be a more scientific way of overcoming the difficulty, but to the uninitiated, this plan looks simple and good enough. Business houses are too often annoyed by the telephone-user, who deliberately camps in front of the instrument and uses up all the available atmosphere in the room in detailing a lot of "mushy" stuff to some feminine infant at the other end of the line, while business is "waiting." Raus mid'em!

We have noticed that the few conscientious objectors to the war draft we have met with in Paris haven't any objections to the other fellow taking up a gun and doing the fighting.

"The Old Woman."

A nice phrase to be used about the dear old soul who kept her vigil over you in your infancy, kissed away your tears in childhood and remained your trusted friend in maturity.

Is this all the love you have for the silver-haired mother who bathed your scorching brow all through the long sleepless nights of affliction, when your brain was wild with burning fever? Is there no other term you can find for her who has followed you through every trial, tribulation and misfortune of your life?

Has mother, through all these years of labor, watching and waiting, been wasting her love on a worthless bunch of clay, who, in the rosy dawn of manhood has no other term more fitting than "the old woman" by which to address or speak of his mother?

Not until the selective drafting act was sprung on the country did we suspect that there were so many fellows in Bourbon county and in Paris who were dependent upon someone else, or who were engaged in "farming" or "industrial occupations."

KENTUCKY AND INDIANA TROOPS CONTROL CAMP.

Indiana and Kentucky troops are in complete control of Camp Shelby, at Hattiesburg, Miss. A regiment of Mississippi infantry, which has been doing guard duty there, has gone to the State mobilization camp and the Indiana men took up the guard work.

Maj. D. H. Lomax, division Quartermaster, has reported at Camp Shelby for duty. His division comprises the Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky troops and he will have complete charge of all the food and feedstuffs the big cantonment will require.

The arrival of Brig. Gen. Edward M. Lewis, of the Seventy-fourth Infantry Brigade, makes four Generals of the five who have been assigned to this camp. Gen. Lewis commanded 14,000 soldiers on the border, including the Indiana delegation. He will have charge of the Indiana brigade at Camp Shelby.

Kentucky hospitality is a byword in Camp Shelby. Maj. Gen. W. H. Sage, commandant of the camp, is the latest comer to feel it. On his arrival Maj. W. H. Howard, construction quartermaster, and Maj. Jackson Morris, assistant construction quartermaster, both of them from the Bluegrass State, offered Gen. Sage their headquarters.

"No, thanks. You're busy," Gen. Sage objected.

"Wait a minute, General, we'll build yours right away," the Kentuckians insisted.

Building the headquarters, two buildings 90 feet long by 25 wide, took a little more than a minute. They were finished by night.

COPPER IS BOOMING.

The tremendous war demand for copper along with labor troubles in many producing countries, has made the fortunes of the owners of active European copper mines in neutral States. Certain mines in Spain are the most striking instance of this. These mines are the oldest in existence. They were known to the ancient Phoenicians, and the Romans used their output in manufacturing bronze armor. Last year they paid their owners dividends of over 100 per cent.

If Kaiser Bill doesn't get a wiggle on "that breakfast he had prepared in Paris will be getting cold."

PRONOUNCING WORDS.

A Test and a Flippant Fling at the Critic and His Theory.

Comes now another to trouble us in these days when the wayfarer has already enough to bother to keep him from lingering overlong in his humble repose. It is a man who has discovered that there are 25,000 English words more or less commonly mispronounced and who would show us how to rescue ourselves from the disgrace.

By way of illustration he challenges all comers to try to pronounce offhand such words as actinism, archimandrite, batman, beauful, bourgeois, brevier, buoy, deny, tugleman, fusil, oboe, rowlock, tassel, vase and velicity. He intimates that anybody who can give them all correctly can qualify as a .300 hitter in the pronunciation league, but still has a long way to go before he reaches perfection.

But what of it? An oboe sounds as sweet whether one calls it an oh-bow or an oh-boy. If the writer of this article told his printer to set it in boor-zwah type the printer probably would call a meeting of the chapel and insist on a strike vote. You can call it a vase or yawze, but it takes a dime to get it filled, where it used to cost only 5 cents. As to deny and velicity, most of us have got along very well for a good many years without writing or speaking either of them and hope to struggle along the same way at least until we have a little rest from worry over the high cost of potatoes.

The hardest thing about it is to determine which of several schools of pronunciation is most desirable—the London, the Melbourne, the Canadian, the Texas, the Massachusetts, the Alabama, the Georgia or the Missouri. Moreover, if 25,000 words are mispronounced most of us are democratic enough to let the majority rule and be willing to make it unanimous. — St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

AMERICA AWHEEL.

The Case of Pippkins Will Do Illustate the Point.

"My neighbor, Pippkins, has changed his manner of vacation," declares Edward Hungerford in Everybody's. "In other years his annual outing was a rather portentous affair. The family began to plan it some months in advance. There were railroad and steamboat and hotel booklets on the library table. When the time came Mrs. Pippkins and the girls went to a huge wooden hotel on the edge of a lake. They dressed three times a day. When Pippkins ran down on one Friday of each fortnight he boarded a hot, dusty, overcrowded train and rode for five uncomfortable hours. They insisted that he don a Tuxedo each evening for dinner. He used to wonder if the game was quite worth the candle.

"Today there are no such doubts in Pippkins' mind. He has a car—so have four-fifths of the families in our quiet street. Pippkins caught the fever early in the game. Today he is a veteran and hardened motorist. He talks earnestly and learnedly of gears and of transmission, and he is superlatively critical of every car except his own. I might write a story upon how that car and its predecessors in the Pippkins family have changed their very soul, but this is not the time nor place. Sufficient is it to say that Pippkins is now a motor expert, and Dr. King down at our corner says that Pippkins has grown ten years younger.

"Mrs. Pippkins and the girls have all but forgotten when they have been on a railroad train in summer. They live in the family car.

"Multiply Pippkins all the way across the face of the land, and you begin to have a definite perception of America awheel."

A Pie Without Flour or Lard.

Two and one-half cupfuls cold boiled rice, one-half cupful sugar, one-half cupful milk, one egg, one teaspoonful butter, a pinch of salt, grated nutmeg or flavoring to taste, fruit. Brush a pie plate with butter and spread the rice even on the plate. Beat half the sugar, the egg, milk, salt and flavoring together and pour over the rice. Cover top with halves of canned peaches or stewed dried peaches and sprinkle the rest of sugar over the fruit. Put in moderate oven and bake thirty-five minutes.

Any fruit can be used, either fresh, canned or dried stewed fruit.—Mrs. Anna B. Scott in Philadelphia North American.

He Liked It.

Jock Russell was a farm servant. One day when Mrs. Brown, the farmer's wife, went into the milk house she found Jock down on his knees before a milk pan, skimming the cream off with his finger and putting it in his mouth.

"Oh, Jock, Jock," she exclaimed, "I don't like that!"

"Ah, wumman," replied Jock, "ye dinna ken whit's guid for ye."—Pearson's Weekly.

They Get Busy.

"I suppose a great many ask for information who have no idea of taking a train?"

"Yes," said the weary official. "When some people spy a free bureau of information there's a strong temptation to stock up."—Kansas City Journal.

Literature.

"Dasher your favorite author? Why, he doesn't average one short story a year."

"That's why he's my favorite author."—Puck.

It is better to say, "This one thing I do" than to say, "These forty things I dabble in."

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Paris Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back—

A lame, weak one, or aching one—Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far-away places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony. Read this Paris case.

Floyd H. Rankin, grocer, Lilles-ton avenue and Lucas street, Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years and have been greatly benefited by them. At times I have suffered severely with kidney complaint. My back has often pained me and has been lame most all the time. The kidney secretions have been too frequent in passage and have greatly annoyed me. Whenever I have been this way, I always found that a box of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to cure me of the attack in short order."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rankin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

CAN YOU "CAMOUFLAGE?"

For the first American "camouflage" unit, the army chief of engineers has issued a call for enlistment of "ingenious young men who are looking for special entertainment in the way of fooling Germans." It is planned to organize a company of camoufleurs largely from among iron and sheet metal workers, sign and scene planters, carpenters, cabinet makers, stage carpenters, property men, plasterers, moulders and photographers.

These men will devote their wits to devising artificial means of deceiving enemy observers, particularly aviators, says a War Department announcement, "wherever a machine gun is set up, or a trench is taken and reversed, or a battery of artillery goes into action, or a new road is opened, or a new bridge is built, or a sniper climbs an old building, or an officer creeps out into an advanced post to hear and observe." The literal meaning of camouflage, a French music hall term, is "faking."

Applicants are asked to communicate with the chief of engineers, War Department.

KENTUCKY'S GREATEST TROTS.

Monday, October 1, is the opening day of Kentucky's great trots at Lexington and four races are on the card, among them The Walnut Hall Cup, $3,000 and the Futurity for 2-year-olds with a guaranteed value of $5,000. Both promise to be bitter contests, especially that for the "Cup," in which Ima Jay 2:05, Early Dreams 2:04 1/4, Busy's Lassie 2:04 1/4, The Woodman 2:06 1/4, Minola 2:05 1/4 and Peter Chenault 2:07 1/4, are almost certain to come together. It is a great card and the railroads will sell tickets to Lexington at reduced rates.

"Don't you wish you knew as much as your children think you do?" "No, I wish I knew as much as my children think they do."

Starting a Telephone Talk

When you have called for a number on the telephone and you hear a voice say, "This is So and So, Mr. Such and Such speaking," you know at once whether you have the right number or not.

On the contrary, if the voice says "Hello! Hello!" you are in the dark, and you are obliged to waste time in asking.

When called to the telephone always introduce yourself at once. It saves all preliminary questioning, and avoids confusion.

OPENING OF SECOND LIBERTY LOAN OCTOBER 1.

The opening of the next Liberty Loan campaign has been set tentatively by the Treasury Department for October 1. Subscription books will close November 1, unless the program is altered.

The amount, the interest rate, the denominations of the bonds and other details will be announced after Congress disposes of the pending bond bill.

Indications are that the next offering will approximate $3,000,000,000. Whether it will be advertised by the government through paid newspaper space is under consideration by Secretary McAdoo, who said the cost of such an undertaking would exceed the appropriation now available for the purpose. He added that there could be no action until more light had been received as to the cost of an effective advertising campaign and until Congress had decided what amount will be allowed for advertising for future issues.

Under the war revenue bill, passed last April, $7,000,000 was made available for expense of floating $5,000,000,000 in bonds and $2,000,000,000,000 in short time certificates of indebtedness. It is reported that about half already has been dispersed in connection with the flotation of the $2,000,000,000 Liberty Bonds first offered and the certificates of indebtedness put out in advance of the loan.

In announcing the tentative program for the second campaign Mr. McAdoo appealed to Liberty Loan committees to perfect their organizations and prepare for the next campaign by getting in touch with the various federal reserve banks.

PEOPLE SPEAK WELL OF CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS.

"I have been selling Chamberlain's Tablets for about two years and heard such good reports from my customers that I concluded to give them a trial myself, and can say that I do not believe there is another preparation of the kind equal to them," writes G. A. McBride, Headford, Ont. If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good. (sept-adv)

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER

It is generally admitted that experience is the best teacher, but should we not make use of the experience of others as well as our own? The experience of a thousand persons is more to be depended upon than that of one individual. Many thousands of persons have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs and colds with the best results, which shows it to be a thoroughly reliable preparation for those diseases. Try it. It is prompt and effectual and pleasant to take. (sept-adv)

THE OLD HOME LIFE.

No boy, no girl, can ever come to be utterly bad who remembers only love and tenderness and sweetness as associated with father and mother in the old time home. Give them manly and womanly example, give them training, give them the inspiration of devoted lives, give them these higher, deeper things. Do not care so much as to whether you are accumulating money, so that you can leave them a fortune. We really believe the chances are against that being a blessing for a boy. But leave them an accumulated fortune of memories and inspirations and examples and hopes, so that they are rich in brain and heart and soul.

AMERICA'S RICHEST TROTTER PRIZE.

The Kentucky Futurity, worth $14,000, America's richest prize for trotters, will be decided at the Lexington trots October 2, and the race promises to be one of the most brilliant on record. Among those eligible to start are The Real Lady 2:04 1/4, Harvest Gale 2:05 1/4, Miss Bertha 2:05 1/4, Leonard 2:07 1/4, Emma Magowan 2:07 1/4, Tacta 2:07 1/4, Worthy Volo 2:08 1/4, Bertha McGuire 2:09 1/4, Kelley DeForest 2:10, Mary Coburn 2:10 1/4, and Harvest Tide 2:11 1/4, the most evenly balanced field in the history of the event; and good judges predict that it will be the best Futurity ever trotted.

TO THE FARMERS OF KENTUCKY

The Agricultural Department at Washington, D.C., is calling upon the Commissioners of Agriculture and other agricultural forces throughout the United States, earnestly pleading with them to use their influence toward increasing the acreage of wheat sown this fall; and since it is most imperative that Kentucky should increase her 1917 acreage sown, I beg of each land owner in this Commonwealth to see that his fall sowing is increased fully 25% in acreage. Not only is this appeal made to the farmer in the nature of a "war appeal" and a patriotic effort, but it is a duty each farmer owes to his own household to produce an adequate supply of the necessity of life for the sustenance of that family, and under the existing war condition, his obligations toward helping feed our allies should be just as paramount and just as eagerly performed as is the debt and duty he owes to his own family. Kentucky for the past few years has been producing annually around eight million bushels of wheat and it is estimated that ten million bushels of wheat are consumed each year by the people of this Commonwealth.

Therefore, in order to do our "mite" during this serious crisis, I beg of the Kentucky people to decrease the supply of wheat usually consumed at least two million bushels; and to the farmers of this State to do their utmost in producing twelve million bushels in 1918, which will give our Allies the magnificent amount of four million bushels, and which is nothing more than we should do for those brave warriors who are to-day fighting the battle for the world's freedom.

Do not let the high price of seed wheat influence or prevent you from sowing an increased acreage, nor doubt not for a minute but that the growing of wheat will be a profitable as well as a patriotic effort, even if the war were to close to-morrow. I cannot believe that the farmers of this State fully realize the seriousness of the situation, and I therefore call upon them and assure them that every pulsation of the heart of every true American citizen is throbbing, and most crying aloud for a greater increased production of this staple product. Mr. Farmer, won't you please do your part?

MAT. S. COHEN,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

DRAFTED MEN WILL NOT HAVE TO LEAVE SO SOON.

Under the new orders, issued from Washington, five per cent. of the white men, preferably those with military experience, from each local area, will be started forward to the camp on September 5, instead of thirty per cent. They will go in five daily detachments of equal size and form skeleton company organizations and set up a strong concern into which the remainder of the total quota can be absorbed without confusion as they reach the cantonments.

The next forty per cent. of the quota will go forward September 19, when the second thirty per cent. originally was scheduled to go. A second forty per cent. will go forward October 3, instead of the third thirty per cent. and the remaining fifteen per cent. will be called as soon as practicable.

Local boards are directed to disregard order of liability numbers to some extent in selecting the first five per cent., as men of experience such as cooks and former soldiers are desired at that time. Warning is given, however, against getting into this levy by reason of his experience any man who might not otherwise have been included in the first increment of the district at all.

INDIANA SOLDIER PERFORMS DANGEROUS FEAT.

Robert Bradshaw, 22 years old, member of Indiana National Guard, stationed at Evansville, Ind., who scaled the wall of the court house and then climbed to the top of the flag-staff, a distance of 280 feet, repeated the feat on a wager in the presence of over 2,000 people. When he reached the top of the staff Bradshaw wrapped the folds of the flag around him and waved at the crowd below.

Bradshaw says when the American troops reach Berlin he hopes to be one of them and that he will climb to the top of the German government building and remove the flag of Imperial Germany.

IMMENSITY OF U. S. WAR PREPARATIONS ARE SHOWN.

Some idea of the immensity of American's preparations for the great war may be gained from a glimpse afforded of what is being done in Chicago alone.

According to statistics of the Association of Commerce, the army quartermaster during the last thirty days spent approximately $100,000,000 in Chicago for food, clothing and equipment. In the next thirty days it will spend $250,000,000 more for the cantonments at Rockford, Ill., Battle Creek, Mich., and Chillicothe, Ohio. In one deal the government bought 7,000,000 pounds of bacon and 2,500,000 pounds of flour. The quartermaster's department which used to get along with 30 clerks, now has 300 stenographers alone and occupies 15 acres of floor space.

COMMON SCHOOL EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR.

Although little has been written about the common school exhibit at the State fair this year, no department of the fair will be more completely or fully developed than the common school exhibit. Jesse O. Yancey, of Maysville, superintendent of the Mason common schools, will have charge of the departments. She holds that modern education is a doing rather than a learning process and that this exhibit will offer the teachers an opportunity to motivate their school activities through practical work.

In a letter to the county school superintendents she says that the exhibit will be of educational value to the State by suggesting to the teachers new projects and stimulation to put forth an effort to standardize the work. It is expected that the prize winners at a large majority of the county fairs will send their exhibits to the State Fair.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS NAMED BY STATE BOARD.

County Election Commissioners were named Friday by the Board of Election Commissioners at a meeting held in Frankfort. These county election commissioners will elect the officers of election for the October registration and the November election. A. T. Siler, of Williamsburg, the Republican member of the Commission who was appointed by Governor Stanley, and R. C. Oldham, of Winchester, the Democratic commissioner, selected the county election commissioners.

The commissioners named for Bourbon county are Wm. F. Talbot, Democrat, and H. Clay Howard, Republican.

SECRETLY WEDDED JUNE 28, JUST ANNOUNCED.

Secretly wedded in Lexington, on June 28, at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Mark Collis, the announcement of their marriage has just been made public by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McKee, the bridegroom of Paris, and the bride, who was before her marriage Miss Mary Routlette, of Winchester.

The marriage was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Dorie, of Winchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Dorie Scott, of Paris, uncle and aunt of the groom. No intimation of the wedding had been given even to their closest friends until Saturday, when, the young couple going to the train together for a trip to Louisville, told friends of the happy event.

Mr. McKee is a son of Mrs. W. A. McKee, of Paris, and is in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Winchester, where he is highly regarded by his fellow-workers. He was transferred for a while to Paris. He has been assigned to duty at Winchester where he and his bonny bride will make their home in the future. Mrs. McKee is the daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Routlette, of Winchester, and a most accomplished and attractive young woman.

HUNTING LICENSES MUST BE RE-NEWED.

Hunters obtaining hunting licenses last year will have to renew them or pay the penalty for hunting without license. According to Bourbon county game wardens, the greatest number of law violations are those in which the men do not realize that their licenses must be renewed each year. The hunting license expires in January of each year, no matter when it was obtained.

The best way out is to see County Clerk Pearce Paton, pass your dollar over the counter and get your license. You'll not need another one until next spring, then.

BACK FROM THE NAVY. PARIS MAN LIKES THE LIFE.

W. O. (Bradley) Pennington, of Paris, who is now a "tar" on Uncle Sam's mighty ship, the "Oklahoma," stationed somewhere on the Atlantic coast, arrived here Saturday night, on a ten-days' furlough. Mr. Pennington is greatly pleased with life in the navy. The Paris boys have been separated since being assigned to the ships.

Edward Doty is still on the Nevada, "Buddy" James, who has been on the Florida, is awaiting orders to join a ship en route to France, while Ed. Fitzpatrick, formerly of THE NEWS office force, who was a shipmate of Pennington on the "Oklahoma," is learning to operate a linotype in the ship's printing department.

Mr. Pennington says the Paris boys are all in the best of health and enjoying life to the very fullest. They have become duly impressed with the responsibility attached to them as Uncle Sam's men and are appreciating the advantages they could never have had as civilians.

BACK HOME AGAIN.

Mr. James B. Fee, former Parisian, is here from his big rancho near Merriam, Kansas, on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fee, after a two-years' absence.

Mr. Fee is manager of a big fruit rancho owned by a Kansas City corporation from which thousands of barrels of fruits are shipped annually to the big markets of the West and Middle West. The rancho is also contributing its share of food products by increasing its acreage of wheat and corn. Motor tractor plows were used in breaking up the ground and in planting seed, the work being conducted even at night, when electric searchlights of high power were used in assisting the drivers of "the steel mules." Wheat harvesting was also carried on by motor-driven apparatus.

Mr. Fee says Kansas is no longer "bleeding Kansas," but a live, progressive, hustling State, where everybody is busy and employment could be found for hundreds of farm hands and other laborers.

Mr. Fee said that a short time ago he saw an old Paris favorite, Scheneberg, who pitched for the Paris team in the Blue Grass League in 1910 and 1911. "Scheneberg" still had his pitching arm, and was at that time playing with the Columbus team. He inquired very particularly concerning Paris people and said he hoped he would get a chance to come over some time for a visit. Scheneberg is now pitching for the Rochester team in the New York State League.

PURCHASES SHELBY FARM.

Dr. Frank L. Lapsley and Mr. Osian Edwards, of the Paris Realty Co., have returned from Shelby county, where they have been on business. While there Dr. Lapsley purchased the Rodman farm containing 232 acres, located on the Louisville and Shelby county "highway." This farm has been used for the past fifteen years as a certified dairy farm. Possession will be given January 1, 1918. He will move to the property at that time.

Dr. Lapsley some time ago sold his Bourbon county farm on the Hume & Bedford pike, to Mr. Wm. D. McIntyre, of Millersburg.

THE WRIGHT DANCE.

The dance given at the Masonic Temple, in this city, last night by John M. Stuart and Charles Spears, was one of the decided social events of the season.

There was a large attendance from the city and county, with a liberal sprinkling of out-of-town visitors. The music for the occasion was furnished by Wright's Saxophone Orchestra, of Columbus, Ohio, and was fully up to expectations. With the beginning of the school season these events will become rarities on account of many of the participants returning to their school studies in the schools and universities of this and other States. But those who were there last night will remember the "Wright dance" as being one of the most enjoyable they have ever attended.

LIGHTNING HITS CHURCH, KILLING BOY.

"Let us sing, 'Throw Out the Life Line,'" said Pastor Neusam at the second annual home-coming of Christian Church, near Rocky Ford, Ohio, Sunday afternoon. As the tune was started a bolt of lightning struck the church, creating panic among the hundreds present, scores of whom were knocked down. Balls of fire rolled about the room. Two horses near the church were knocked down. The bolt of lightning instantly killed Edward Jenkins, 12 year old, whose home was at Wilkins Corners, and Ernest Cochran, 27, a Newark laundry man, was rendered unconscious. Fred Ridenbaugh, 8 years old, son of Austin Ridenbaugh, whose hand rested upon Cochran's shoulders, was badly hurt.

GETTING READY FOR THE ASSESSOR.

County Assessor Robert M. Gilkey and his deputies are getting ready to make the Bourbon county assessment for this year. The assessment this year under the new law will be much larger than it was last year, and the assessor will be paid on a different scale, which means that his salary for this year will be much larger than it has ever been since he has been in office. The new assessor who will take his office in January will be the highest paid assessor the county has ever had.

The new form of assessor's blank resembles the much-talked of Chinese puzzle. Two blanks have to be made out for each person, and the whole number of questions to be replied to cover twelve pages. There is as much or more paper in the two blanks as there is in this issue of THE NEWS. The high cost of print paper seems to have been lost sight of when the blanks were prepared. Mr. Gilkey asks that the tax-payers be ready for him when he comes to see them with this big blank. There will be lots of places where he will have to "stop over for dinner and horse feed."

PARIS PROFESSOR TO ASSIST IN JOURNALISTIC SCHOOL.

Preparations for a banner year are being made by the Department of Journalism of the University of Kentucky. Enoch Grehan, of the Herald, head of the department, has obtained the services of Prof. John Price, of Paris, to act as instructor in the literary course that is made a feature of the second year's training. The department which enrolled nearly a hundred students last year expects even larger classes this year.

Mr. Grehan, who is on the building committee of the University, has turned part of his attention in this line to his own department and has completely changed the style of the halls and "editor's office" of the "news" rooms. The "reporters' quarters remain unchanged.

CAUGHT IN "DRAG NET."

In an effort to suppress selling of liquor to soldiers in uniform in Lexington, the city and military authorities started a vigorous campaign in the business district Saturday, which resulted in ten arrests.

Among those picked up in the raid was Harry Metzger, of Paris. Metzger is alleged to have sold beer from a basket in the toilet room of the Leland Hotel, without even having asked permission of the proprietor to enter the house.

Metzger was taken by a detail of the provost guard before Provost Marshal Capt. Otto Holstein. He told Capt. Holstein that he "neither sold nor gave the beer to the soldiers." He declared that he sat the basket down and the men took the beer while his back was turned.

ATTENTION, U. R. K. OF P.

There will be a special called meeting of A. J. Lovely Company, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, at their Castle Hall, corner of Third and Main streets, at 7:30 o'clock, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, September 5. Business of great importance. A full attendance of the members is urged.

W. W. DUDLEY, Captain.

WINN FAMILY HOLD ENJOYABLE REUNION.

The reunion of the Winn family held last week near Winchester at the beach on the Kentucky River was one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The members took both dinner and supper on the beach, and the hours were very merrily and enjoyably spent. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. White and three sons, Charles, Robert and James; Mrs. White Varden, Mrs. James McClure and two granddaughter, Nell Winn and Elizabeth Hinton; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lisle and sons, Claiborne and D. C. Lisle, Jr., of Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Lisle and their guest, Mrs. C. F. Maurer, of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Winn, of Alabama, and their four children, Nicholas, Julia, Sam and Ann Winn; W. P. Winn, J. F. Winn and Miss Nell Bush Winn, of Winchester.

TO TAX PAYERS
Tax receipts of the city for 1917 are now in the hands of City Collector Clarence Thomas, at the Peoples Deposit Bank. Call and pay them now.

HANCOCK'S EMBROIDERY ENTER-ED IN BIG STAKES.

Mr. Arthur B. Hancock, of the Claiborne Stock Farm, near Paris, has entered his famous chestnut mare, Embroidery, in the Louisville Cup race to be run at the Douglas Park track in Louisville, and in the Latonia Cup race, to be run at the Latonia track. The Douglas Park meeting begins September 26, and the Latonia races begin on October 13. Shadow Lawn, owned by Mr. J. Hal Woodford, of Paris, is also entered in the Latonia Cup race.

Experience teaches that people seldom hit a man when he is down. They usually jump on him.

SECOND KENTUCKY SOLDIERS ARRESTED HERE.

Charles McKenna, Green Harris and Olin Collins, members of Company B., Second Kentucky Regiment, were arrested in Paris yesterday morning by Patrolman Geo. W. Judy upon a notice from Capt. J. V. Gross. The men were charged with leaving their company and regiment at Camp Stanley, at Lexington, without having secured permission. Capt. Gross came to Paris and took the men back to Lexington with him.

SOME SECTIONS STILL NEED RAIN.

Although the greater part of Bourbon county has had good rains during the past several days, which have greatly helped the growing crops, it is understood that in some sections of this and adjoining counties, the farmers are still badly needing rain.

The tobacco crop in most sections looks very good, while prospects for corn are better than they have been for several years. With high prices prevailing it seems the farmer should feel content and live easy.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The 1917 meeting of the Bourbon County Teachers' Institute convened in the circuit court room of the Bourbon county court house yesterday morning for a two-days' session. There was a large attendance, and an interesting program was provided for the opening day, which will be followed by others fully as interesting on each day of the meeting.

The sessions of the Institute are being presided over by Prof. R. H. Ellett, principal of the Millersburg Graded School, and Miss Dalton, of Lexington. The teachers of the county schools as well as those of the city, are attending the sessions, and manifesting great interest in the proceedings.

FINE CARD ON PROGRAM AT DOUGLAS PARK.

Due to the missionary trip to Saratoga of General Manager John H. Hachmeister, of the Douglas Park and Latonia race tracks in behalf of the stake events for the fall meetings at these two plants, Kentucky turkeys will get a chance this autumn to see the star thoroughbreds of the East in action against the best of the Bluegrass State. Two horses that attracted a lot of attention this summer, especially in the East, Papp and Omar Khayyam, are well nominated in the Kentucky stakes and it will be the first time that either of their owners have ever raced on the Bluegrass circuit.

Papp is unquestionably the best 2-year-old in the East, while the prowess of Omar Khayyam is well known around here, he having won the last Kentucky Derby last Spring. The latter is nominated in the Louisville Cup race, the big feature of the Douglas Park meeting, and also in the Latonia Cup Handicap, $7,500 added, two and one-quarter miles, the best stake on the Latonia roster. The Louisville Cup is at two miles.

For the first time at fall meetings Andrew Miller, who owns the celebrated Roamer and the high-class 3-year-old Ticket, which finished second in the Kentucky Derby, will race in this parts. Roamer has also been nominated in the two cup races and he is a much better horse now than when he ran in the Kentucky Handicap at Douglas Park in the spring.

There are at the present time enough horses at Douglas Park to start a race meeting and more and more are arriving every day. Track Superintendent Charley Nolte has the track proper in excellent condition and fast moves are being reported daily. By the time the opening of the Douglas Park meeting rolls around, September 26, it is expected that close to 1,000 horses will be stabled at that course and Churchill Downs.

The Douglas Park meeting will embrace only seven days this fall, but in that small space of time more high class racing will take place than ever before in the history of the "sport of kings" in Louisville. No purse will be worth less than $800 and there will be $6,000 in stake money.

The Latonia meeting this fall will embrace twenty-five racing days, beginning on Saturday, October 13, and winding up on Saturday, November 10, five Saturdays in all. As at Douglas Park no purses will have a lesser value than $800 and there will be five stakes with a combined value of $20,500. Next to the cup race in point of interest will be the Queen City Championship Stake for 2-year-olds at one mile, $5,000 added.

Improvements at a cost of $30,000 are being made at the Latonia track this summer and when they are finished the plant will be as up-to-date as any in the country.

SCREEN "BANQUETS" TO BE ABOLISHED

Motion picture producers are responding to the appeal sent to them by Herbert C. Hoover, national food administrator, to help conserve so far as possible the food supply of the United States.

First of the steps toward economy was taken when Thos. H. Ince, the producer, suggested in a telegram to Hoover that the stage and screen banquets which waste hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of food annually for an effect of realism be abolished.

The power of suggestion that so much food is being wasted is noted in Ince's message. The scenes showing huge quantities served just to make a picture true to life have a depressing effect on audiences, the producer believes.

Ince recently was appointed one of four big motion picture and theatrical producers to serve on the national food commission. He said he believed every motion picture and theatrical producer willingly would cooperate with the government in effecting this economy.

CATARH CAN'T BE CURED

With LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS.

Apply a Few Drops Then Lift Corns or Callouses Off With Fingers—No Pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness. The drug is called Freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask any drug store for a small bottle of Freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callous.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callous. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callous will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug Freezone doesn't eat out the corns or callouses, but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have Freezone have him order it for you. (adv)

HOUSES BEING RAZED BY ORDER OF FIRE MARSHAL.

More than 200 structures, which are a menace to surrounding property, have been razed in Kentucky by order of Fire Marshal Thomas Pannell. The latest successful effort to rid a town of this menace was in Danville, where sixteen frame structures, embracing an entire square, are being torn down. The last obstacle was an old colored woman, who lived in one of the houses. Her objections were met by the owner of the adjoining property, agreeing to build her a brick structure on a lot he owned and trade it for her present domicile. Bowling Green, Louisville, Lexington, Maysville, Ashland and Greenville are among the cities that have felt the hand of the law on their fire traps.

Forty hotels have been or are being equipped with fire escapes and more than that number of public schools, and hundred of blue prints are on file in the fire marshal's office, showing the plans adopted for the construction of fire escapes on buildings in various parts of the State.

The biggest cleaning up has been in reformed livery stables that have abandoned the housing of horses for gasoline propelled vehicles. Of open, seasoned construction, covering great spaces and filled with inflammable material, these garages have caused more disastrous fires than any other agency in Kentucky cities. The storage of gasoline in underground safety tanks also has been enforced in most cities.

Fire Marshal Pannell said he is meeting with heartier co-operation than he had expected.

WHAT KENTUCKY EDITORS ARE SAYING.

The Courier-Journal says that a New Albany, Ind., man is eating corn that was planted on his place by the great cyclone that struck the Indiana city some time ago. Verily, it is "an ill wind that blows no one good."—Hartford Herald.

There can be no doubt that ours is a "stable" government. Just look at the long-eared specimens in some of the Senate stalls!—Maysville Bulletin.

Profanity never did any man the least good. No man is the richer, the happier or the wiser for it. It commands no one to any society. It is disgusting to the refined; abominable to the good; insulting to those with whom we associate; degrading to the mind; unprofitable, needless and injurious in society. Young man, don't be profane.—La Center Advance.

Hogs are getting so high that they think they belong to the aristocracy. A bunch shipped from here this week put up a squeal because they were not loaded in Pullman cars.—Cynthiana Log Cabin.

A New York paper, noting the probability of Kentucky going dry, says it will be a "rye-less" State. Up in that country they drink liquor made of rye, and there is an impression that the same brand is used here. Kentuckians don't drink rye whisky. They want Bourbon, and want it straight. Just listen when a genuine Kentucky Colonel walks up to the bar and hear him say, "Make mine corn licker."—Danville Messenger.

Monday morning the Eagle sent a message over its yarn string asking for a good shower, and that evening the shower came. What a wonderful man is Woodrow!—Whitesburg Mountain Eagle.

No, we haven't heard of any of those Russian soldier girls complaining of the attention of the street Johnnies.—Central City Argus.

We are in the war by the action of Congress—the only body authorized to take the nation into war. The quickest way to peace is to go straight through, supporting the Government in all it undertakes, no matter how long the war lasts or how much it costs. We must win. Any discord or division, after the Government has acted, would prolong the war and increase its cost in money and men.—Benton Tribune-Democrat.

SEA SLUG STORIES

Thrilling Tales of U Boat Hunting, Told by an American Boy Who Served For Months With the British Patrol and Who Did the Thrilling and Perilous Work That Is Now Being Done by Hundreds of Other American Boys.

PROLOGUE.

The author of this series of four articles is a young American, who has spent most of his time since the war started with the British patrol fleet, taking an important part in helping to organize that branch of the service known as the Sea Slugs.

He has accumulated a remarkable collection of anecdotes incident to this exciting branch of the service, and many of these were personal adventures in which he took part and which make one of the stirring narratives to come out of the war. He recently returned to the United States to assist the American navy in organizing the same branch of the service and should be of great value because of his experience abroad. So far as known, he is the only American to serve with the British patrol prior to the advent of the United States destroyer flotilla in British waters. Of course some of his experiences, of military value to the enemy, cannot be related. At the request of the service publication of his name is withheld.

MAX HORTON, the man who torpedoed the German battle cruiser Moltke, was one of the most modest men I have ever met. I palled around for a couple of nights with Horton and another Sea Slug who had been only a short time out of the Hasda hospital, where he had recovered from wounds he received at Gallipoli. Horton, besides being the hero of the Moltke incident when in command of an E boat, had been the first man through the Dardanelles in his flimsy M. L., as the British call the submarine chasers, he being in that service before taking over a submarine.

M. L. stand for motor launch. The little craft are called a great many other things at times, both by the men in them when they don't run just right and by submarine commanders, German and British.

We were all at Portsmouth, which is one of the principal M. L. bases. Horton, his friend and myself had been out on a duty tour and on the way back stopped at The Knut for a couple of drinks, then at Monk's for oysters and finally landed at Tot's for dinner, which is about the program followed by the Sea Slugs when they can get ashore.

"They had the M. L.'s sweeping mines down at Gallipoli," said Horton in a very matter of fact way. "Lots of people think all we Slugs have to do is to cruise around and keep from drowning, but I want to tell you that chasing submarines is the easiest and safest thing expected of us."

"Tugboats and trawlers and mine sweepers weren't much good in the Dardanelles, because they furnished too big a target. Besides, everything that could float was getting shot to pieces, and before they dared send our ships in it was absolutely necessary to sweep the mine fields."

"We used to hook thousand foot cables between two M. L.'s and cruise down through the fields as fast as we could go. The cables were supposed to foul the mines, tip them over and explode them. They did it. Also the M. L.'s themselves tipped over several mines and exploded them, and after that there wasn't anything to hook that end of the cable to."

Work Under Point Blank Fire.

"The Turkish batteries on the cliffs were so close that as we drove down through the mine fields we were at point blank range. The ammunition wasn't so very good, and it didn't always explode on contact, but if ever one of the heavy shells smashed through a chaser there wasn't much of anything left but the hole it made on the way through—like a doughnut after you eat it."

"Of course the Turk guns firing into the fields detonated a lot of their own mines, but that didn't add to our comfort any, for many of them were right under some of the M. L.'s."

"One day we were sweeping in near shore. The sun was so hot that pitch just seemed to sweat out and run down the decks. The glare off the water was almost blinding, and it really didn't seem as if it could be much better in the other place to which we might go if one of those shells hit us. The Turkish batteries were hammering away at us, but the terrific heat was so uncomfortable that nobody minded the shells much. All of a sudden something went by my stomach so close I thought it had cut me in two. Just beyond my boat a shell splashed into the water.

"One of the smaller projectiles had grazed and seared me. I cared in so that I couldn't walk straight or erect for several days—and that is literally true. My stomach felt all the time as if some one was drawing a red hot knife across it."

"I got it worse than that," said the other chap, who had been in the hospital, abruptly. "My boat bumped a mine. I don't know how it is to get shot, but when that thing blew up right alongside of us it felt to me as though it was my own body exploding. It seemed like a sudden and terrific pressure from the inside of me that was going to burst me like a toy balloon."

"We finally got back to the tender under our own power. We had to shore up the bows a little, but we managed to make it. Mines do freakish things, and I don't believe there is a man living who can give any logical reason why we weren't blown into atoms."

"Plain luck, I guess," observed Horton placidly. "It's funny that a mine powerful enough to sink an ocean liner or a battleship will sometimes explode and fail to destroy a motor launch or a submarine that is almost alongside it. A lot of people think submarines are very easily put out of business. We Sea Slugs know it's different, especially the U boats. I saw one of our own down at Gallipoli which had hit a mine and came in with her bow patched up under her own power, just as you did in your chaser."

Sixteen Dead In Launch.

"I never had the bad luck to bump a mine myself, but I've had my share of being shot up. I had one end of a cable in a mine sweeping stunt at the Dardanelles one night when the Turkish batteries got the range. The fire they poured into us is almost unbelievable. I don't see how a stick lived through it. We were practically under water all the time, the shells were falling so close and spraying us so steadily."

"Every once in awhile one came on board, but they were not exploding right—that is, not right from the Turkish point of view. We were perfectly satisfied to have them fall to go off."

"The other chap, though, the fellow who had the far end of my cable, was getting it pretty badly. He was in terrible shape, and after a particularly vicious burst of fire his engines stopped and he began to drift. I ran over to him. We couldn't sweep with only one end of the cable in motion."

"Of the eighteen men in the other M. L. I found two alive. They weren't conscious, but they were still alive. The sixteen others were dead. We took these two aboard our launch and got back to the base. That night was hell."

I have quoted the stories told me by these two men as nearly in their words as I can remember them to show a phase of the submarine chasers' work which is seldom thought of. As Horton said, most people think the M. L.'s do nothing but cruise around in comparative safety looking for submarines. This is only one of their duties."

Most of the Sea Slugs have been taught to operate machine guns, and as a result they were frequently used for landing parties at Gallipoli, running under the Turkish guns and trying to hang on, by their finger nails almost, to the cliffs. Some of the Sea Slugs were on shore for a long time and served in the trenches. One of them told me a bad feature of the fighting there was trying to keep clean. There wasn't water enough to drink, to say nothing about washing, and the only way they could clean their shirts was to lay them on the ant hills. Even at that if they left them there too long the shirts themselves would disappear."

Another job the M. L.'s had down there was boarding all the fishing smacks and other apparently noncombatant vessels and searching them for ammunition and mines. I talked to one man named D., a brother of the officer I told about in my first article who rammed one of his own submarines, mistaking her for a German, who had a fight with two Turk aeroplanes while he was visiting a number of such vessels."

Fought Planes With Rifles.

"We are just running over to a fishing smack to search her," said D., "when I hear the throbbing of an aeroplane engine. A few seconds later the roar of another engine cuts in, and presently I located them with my glasses. It never occurs to me that they are after such small fry as my little M. L."

"Round and round they circle just over our heads, getting lower and lower all the time, until at last they start dropping bombs."

"Bang! goes one not thirty feet off my starboard bow, and we are sprayed with the foam she throws up. But the target is too small, and the planes are traveling so fast they can't get us with bombs, so they veer off and come skimming back very low in a straight line dead for us. They are so close to our heads that I feel like ducking, just as one does going under a doorway that is actually high enough to walk through upright, but which looks too low."

"Suddenly they begin to spray us with machine gun fire. Two of my men are hit, and the decks are flying into splinters. All I have on board is a couple of 30-30 rifles, and I begin firing with one, while my first officer uses the other. The three pounder can't be elevated enough to use it as an air gun."

"We can shoot rapidly, but nothing like the fire of that cursed spew of lead spraying from those machine guns."

"Once they drive straight over us, and now they are coming back. If we don't stop them this time we are gone. I squint along the sights of my rifle. I take a deep breath. I let part of it out and hold the rest, so that my shoulder will not be moving as I squeeze the trigger."

"I am sighting right for the pilot's chest. I fire. He veers off like a wounded bird. His plane wobbles. It looks as if it was going to fall, but he gets it straightened out and flies away. Both of us begin to fire at the other machine. It rises. The pilot does not dare to fly straight into the rifle fire. From aloft he contents himself with dropping more bombs, but he must be within range of our rifles, for presently he flies away and does not bother us any more."

"If he had been a German air man the end of the story might have been different."

Sea Slugs Are Fighters.

The crews which officer and man the submarine chasers are not trained navy men. They don't know overmuch of the king's regulations, and the discipline they maintain is most certainly not that to which one is accustomed on board ship."

But—and I want to emphasize this strongly—they are scrappers. They fight in their own way. They may not know how to do it according to the book, but they are among the gamest men afloat. Many of them are wealthy and formerly owned and operated their own boats. They are a hard fighting, hard riding crew, and the devil himself can't scare them."

Before they are assigned to boats the men are given about a ten day course in navigation, for they must sometimes cruise out of sight of land and at night. Many amusing and sometimes almost tragic incidents arise from their inexperience."

I was out once in an M. L. commanded by a subaltern named C. All he knew about navigation had been taught him in ten days. He got lost, was ashamed to say so and admit that he didn't know how to get his location. He figured for two days trying to find out where he was. He'd get his sun observations, and by the time he had the readings calculated he'd be so far away that he had to do it all over again."

He figured for two days, and all the time he was getting shorter in provisions and fuel. For the last half day he followed a destroyer, thinking she was running into port. He wouldn't signal her and ask for instructions or for his location, so he just trailed along after her as though he knew where he was going. He was too proud to ask the road home."

The sun was under clouds, but it came out just before sunset, and he discovered that he had been running right away from England. We got back off Portsmouth at night. But our signal box had been lost overside, and we couldn't reply to the signal at the entrance to the harbor, which came within inches of costing us our lives, as our own batteries fired a couple of 4.7's at us, and we had to run out and cruise around the rest of the night to save our skins. However, we hung in sight of the harbor so as not to get lost again."

This same chap, though he was short on the science of navigation, was long on fight. When cruising at night the M. L.'s, of course, show no lights, and it is very hard to maintain an absolutely even speed and keep just the proper distance from the other craft."

Steam engines can be controlled right down to the inch, but the gas engines which drive the M. L.'s are not so readily regulated. A single notch increase or decrease on the throttle may make a difference of a whole knot in speed."

Well, C. lost track of the other chasers in his squadron one night, and he didn't dare signal to them. They were out searching for submarines, and to show lights would only give the whole thing away. He couldn't take a chance on sending up a rocket or tooting his whistle, for secrecy is everything. So he just laid a course the way he thought he ought to steer and kept it up hell bent all night."

Just after daylight he discovered that he was off the Belgian coast, having crossed the channel. As the early morning mist lifted he sighted a big vessel astern flying the German flag. She didn't look like a regular warship—more like a converted yacht—but she mounted one gun forward, and C. could see others aft."

He had a regulation three inch piece himself."

"Well, boys," he said to his crew, "we may be rotten navigators, but we don't need to know navigation to give that tin a fight. What do you say?"

There was only about one chance in a hundred that any of them would come out of the scrap alive, and C. didn't like to order his men into it. The M. L. was so fast she could have run, but the crew was game, so C. put about and began to loop around in order to cross her bows, thinking to cut loose a few raking shots into the craft."

The gun was loaded and ready to fire, and C. was only waiting for what he thought was the best position before giving the order to shoot."

"We ought to fly our flag if we're going into battle," suggested some one in the crew."

"By Jove, you're right," C. agreed, and in a jiffy the British ensign was run up at the M. L.'s stern."

Like a shot the German flag at the stern of the war vessel came down, and the Union Jack took its place. Simultaneously from the masthead the stranger broke out a private British navy signal, and C. replied."

He had come within an ace of firing into one of his own vessels which had been flying the German flag in order to decoy any German craft that might sight her. It shows, though, that the Sea Slugs are ready to go into action any time and that they don't have to have the odds in their favor either."

A Matter of Luck.

As I said before, the catching of a submarine and its destruction is greatly a matter of luck. Sometimes the M. L.'s cruise around for days without seeing one, and then perhaps a U boat will pop to the surface within a couple of hundred yards. The most important adjunct to luck is an all seeing eye. One never knows where the periscope is going to stick out above the surface, and you must be ready at any second to make it out at any point of the compass."

Just how many submarines were "got" while I was in England I am not at liberty to say, but I can go on record as stating that they are not easy to get, and the captives are fewer than generally supposed. A vast number of units are necessary to combat them with any degree of success. Besides being invisible almost at will, the submarines are manned by men of nerve."

The idea prevalent among some people that submarine crews are more or less only sneaks, who strike in the dark or when there is no danger for themselves, should be dispelled. The submarines are operated by men who fear death not at all and who sometimes take staggering chances. If the British develop one trick that bags a single submarine they consider it a success. News of English ruses spreads rapidly in the under water gossip."

U boats have run in a few scant miles from shore and sunk all sorts of craft, and they have even tackled destroyers. The British had some very sad experiences in sending destroyers on rescue work, after which they used the M. L.'s for this purpose. These make smaller torpedo targets. The Germans are supposed not to risk U boats unduly; but, believe me, they do."

I talked with the chief engineer and one of the crew of a British sugar ship from the West Indies who had been rescued after being torpedoed."

"We were just making Havre," said the engineer, "and we were mighty glad to get in. The day was remarkably clear, and the water was oily smooth. We were so close to land we didn't think there was a chance of anything attacking us when just at 1 o'clock in the afternoon a submarine appeared off our port bow and signaled us to stop."

"We were armed with a 4.7 gun on our stern and had navy gunners on board, so instead of obeying we turned sharply to starboard to present as small a target as possible for a torpedo and opened fire."

"The first two shots fell short, and the third went over the U boat. The way some people talk you would have expected the submarine to run away. She didn't do anything of the kind. She opened up on us with a gun that must have been at least a three inch piece, and the second shot hit one of our gun mounts."

"One man disappeared—actually disappeared. Either he was knocked into the sea and sank, or he must have been literally blown to pieces. Another poor fellow was killed—just about torn in two—and two other men were put out cold. The captain had to stop then, because there was nothing left to fight with."

"We were so near port that the firing must have been heard, and it was almost certain something would come out to investigate, but the U boat went about finishing the job very methodically."

"The German commander ordered us into our boats. While we were lowering away he signaled the captain and the chief engineer, myself, to come alongside the U boat. The first thing he did was to have our wounded brought aboard, and his surgeon attended to them. Then he used our boat to send men over and place bombs in the ship to blow her up."

"As the day was drawing to a close, it was becoming colder, and, seeing that the men had not brought coats with them, the German commander gave us all sweaters and towed us toward shore for half an hour or so. Three destroyers passed out, but they were so far away that the U boat simply submerged until she was awash, and they never saw a thing. It was almost sunset when she finally disappeared after maneuvering around as though playing like a porpoise at sunset almost within range of shore batteries."

The story of this armed merchantman shows that simply placing guns on steamships is not going to protect them against submarines. There has got to be a sort of craft to fight them on something like equal terms, and the swift, seaworthy, low lying M. L.'s seem to be the ones to do it. But great numbers of them are needed, and great numbers of trained men are needed to operate them."

Song of the Sea Slugs.

The Sea Slugs in England sing a song which pretty well covers everything in the line of their life and duty. Some of the verses were written by one man, some by another. The one referring to Uncle Sam is my own and will be understood when I say that the first M. L.'s were built in America and that the British took some time to learn just how to use them:

Sing me a song of a frail M. L.
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Rolling about on an oily swell
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Out on a highly explosive spree,
Petrol, lyddite and T. N. T.
Looking for U boat 333.
(O Lord, have mercy upon us!)

Sing me a song of a bold young "loot"
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Skillful mariner and nut to boot.
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
So ship the cable and heave the lead,
Hard a-starboard and full ahead.
The detonators are in my bed.
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)

Sing me a song of a smart young "sub"
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
An insubordinate, half trained cub.
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Of the king's regulations I know not one.
I have left undone what I should have done.
But, oh, my aunt, when I fire that gun!
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)

Sing me a song of C. M. B.
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Bred in a garage and sent to sea
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Taken away from the motor trade,
Seasick and sorry, sore, dismayed,
But a— of a nut on the "grand parade."
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)

Sing me a song of Uncle Sam
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Built five hundred and don't care a d—
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
Nobody knows what they built them for.
Every one prays that they'll build no more.
But such are the horrors of "bloody war."
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)

Sing me a song of a North sea base
(O Lord, have mercy upon us!)
A dirty, forgotten, one horse place.
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)
When the wind blows west, how brave we are!
When the wind blows east, it's different, far.
You'll find us safe in the "harbor bar."
(Lord, have mercy upon us!)

As one may gather from the song, many of the Sea Slugs were formerly chauffeurs, and, although the M. L.'s

The German Commander Ordered Us Into Our Boats.

use gasoline for fuel, there is some difference between navigating one of them and an automobile."

Sitting Over a Volcano.

The "detonators under the bed" is literal. There isn't overmuch room on an M. L., and about the only place to keep the detonators is under the bunks. These little craft carry sufficient explosives to blow up several first class warships, and if you want to know how it feels to sit over a volcano with the lid about to be blown off you want to ride in one of them, especially when somebody begins potting at you with shells that may blow up every ounce of ammunition you've got on board any minute."

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomason and little son, of Chicago, arrived Saturday as guest of his parents, Squire and Mrs. E. P. Thomason.

—Miss Corinne Wilson and mother after spending the summer at Georgetown, have returned to the M. C. ready for duty on the opening of the school.

—Rev. R. C. Goldsmith, of the Baptist church, is assisting in a protracted meeting near Louisville. Mrs. Goldsmith is visiting her mother at Owenton.

—Mrs. Maude Barnette and little daughter, Marion, after spending the summer in Lexington, returned Thursday, and will resume her duties at the M. C. on its opening.

—Mrs. C. M. Best entertained a number of the young people Tuesday evening with a private dance in honor of her nephew, Mr. Harry Roche, who will leave in a few days for V. M. I.

—Miss Nannie Louise Best left Thursday for a visit to friends at Nashville, Tenn. after which she goes to Georey, Arkansas, where she will resume her duties as teacher in the college there.

—Prof. Boone, of N. Y. City, N. Y., has returned to his home after spending a few days with Miss Ethel Fisher. Prof. Boone was Miss Fisher's instructor in voice while in New York last winter.

—Presiding Elder J. D. Redd, Rev. J. W. Gardner and Dr. C. C. Fisher will leave to-day for Lexington, where they will attend the annual conference of the M. E. Church, South, which convenes Wednesday.

RELIGIOUS.

The regular business session of the Epworth League of the Methodist church will be held in the church Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. All the members are urgently requested to be present on this occasion.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will be held in the church this (Tuesday) afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. C. O. Hinton will be the leader. All the women of the church are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

UNDERGOES OPERATION.

An operation for appendicitis was performed at the St. Joseph's Hospital, in Lexington, Friday, on Mr. Noah Rose, of Paris, traveling salesman for the Power Grocery Co. The operation was a success, and Mr. Rose's condition is regarded as being very favorable.

DEATHS.

RICHEY.

—The funeral of Mr. James Edward Richey, aged forty-four, who died Thursday morning at the Massie Memorial Hospital, was held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Paris Cemetery. Services were conducted at the grave by Shawhan Lodge F. & A. M. No. 716, of which he had long been a member.

Mr. Richey resided on Second street, in this city. He had been ill for several weeks of a complication of diseases. He is survived by his widow and two little daughters, aged four and three years.

RITCHIE.

—The funeral of Mrs. Loney Ritchie, aged forty-five, who died at her home in Bartonsville, in Nicholas county, Friday, was held Saturday morning at Rose Hill church, followed by burial in the Rose Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Ritchie was a sister of Mrs. R. H. Mattox, of Paris, who was at her bedside when death came. She is survived by her husband and five children. Mrs. Mattox and daughters, Miss Ira Mattox, Mrs. James Grinnell, Jr., and Mrs. S. T. Chipley, all of Paris, attended the funeral.

NEAL.

—The daily papers of Louisville tell of the death of the Rev. William Foster Neal, aged sixty-one, at his home in that city from the effects of a stroke of paralysis received while reading a Scripture lesson in his pulpit. He was pastor of the Parkland Christian church, at the corner of Beech street and Southern avenue, in which he had served one year, coming from Canada, where he had been in the ministry for the fifteen years previous.

Rev. Neal was a native of North Middletown, this county, where he was born in 1856. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucy Neal; four daughters, Mrs. J. A. Curry and Miss Margaret Neal, of Louisville; Mrs. Arthur Beamish, of Winnipeg, British Columbia; Mrs. H. Abbott, Hollywood, Canada; two sons, Messrs. Walter and James Neal, of Winnipeg, Canada.

The funeral was held at the family residence in Louisville, at eight o'clock, Saturday evening, after which the body was taken to Winchester, where it was interred in the Winchester Cemetery, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ in Winchester, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, conducted by Eld. H. C. Lowry, assisted by Elds. H. C. Shoulders and M. C. Kurfess.

BOURBON FARMING CONDITIONS.

Weather conditions were generally favorable last week for the maturing of crops, rain and sunshine alternating in seasonable proportions. September, as a result, came in with pastures, foliage, crops and gardens all looking fine.

The closing week of August was unusually cool, making wraps and extra covers comfortable. Hemp cutting is still in progress, and some tobacco was cut and housed last week. Some of the hemp is short in some sections of the county, but most of it is very fine. Help is scarce and hard to get. Farmers are paying from $2.00 to $2.75 per day to men working in tobacco.

Prices for garden stuff continue high. Roasting ears are bringing thirty cents per dozen, homegrown canteloupes twenty cents each, and other products in proportion. Homegrown sweep potatoes are not yet in the market, and the Southern importations are retelling at $1.00 per peck. Eggs are again thirty-five cents per dozen, butter forty cents per pound, and spring chickens $7.00 per dozen.

MUNICH & CO. FINED.

Several months ago THE BOURBON NEWS started a fight against the junk dealers in Paris receiving stolen property and being generally a nuisance. As a result the City Council passed an ordinance which put a ban on their operations.

Yesterday in Police Court, Max Munich was fined $52.50 and his manager of his Paris branch house was also fined $52.50 for failing to comply with the laws laid down by the city, viz: Failing to keep a record of the sales and the dates and names of the persons of whom they made their purchases. After the trial and conviction on the above charge, Baldwin Bros. had a warrant sworn out for these men for receiving stolen property. Baldwin Bros. having recently had taken from their place several hundred dollars' worth of hides, which was the cause of the above warrants being issued.

FARMER'S HAND BOOK.
The Louisville & Nashville road has just issued an interesting and valuable contribution to farmers' literature in the way of a "Farmers' Hand Book." This publication deals more particularly with the raising of corn, and is profusely illustrated with cuts of seed corn of the various varieties.

This book will be mailed free of charge to anyone who desires a copy by addressing General Immigration and Industrial Agent G. A. Park, care of the Louisville & Nashville offices, Louisville, Ky.

MATRIMONIAL.

HUMPHREY—COOPER.

—Rev. W. O. Sadler, pastor of the Paris Methodist church officiated at the wedding last week of Mr. Virgil Cooper and Miss Naomi Humphreys, both of Paris. Mr. Cooper is employed in the S. Rummatus clothing store.

TAUL—CURTIS.

—Miss Elizabeth Taul and Mr. Buford Curtis, both of the Little Rock vicinity, were married last week in Wilmore. The groom is a prosperous young farmer of near Little Rock. They will reside on the groom's farm.

BLOUNT—MARGOLEN.

—A surprise wedding which took place in Lexington, Sunday afternoon was that of Mr. Jakle Margolen, of Lexington, and Mrs. Rhoda Blount, of Paris, both well-known here, this being the groom's former home.

Mrs. Blount and her intended husband met in Lexington, Saturday and secured a marriage license. The ceremony was performed at two o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. J. W. Porter, and was witnessed by a few personal friends.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herman Margolen, of Paris, and a brother of Messrs. Gus and Hanzel Margolen, of Paris, Louis Margolen, of Canada, and Mrs. Geo. Schwartz, of Purcell, Oklahoma. He is now engaged in the White House Meat Market in Lexington.

The bride is a very handsome and attractive young woman, and an accomplished musician. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Robertson, of Berea.

NORMA TALMADGE IN "POPPY" AT ALAMO AND GRAND.

Norma Talmadge, the popular Selznick-Pictures star, will be seen on the screen of the Alamo Theatre and the Paris Grand Wednesday afternoon and night in her latest feature photodrama, "Poppy." This is adapted from the play by Ben Tael and John P. Ritter, which was taken from Cynthia Stockley's novel. The story is intensely dramatic throughout, dealing with the life of a young girl who graduates from drudgery to refinement.

Miss Talmadge plays the part of Poppy Destin, whose life is moulded by three men, Luce Abinger, the unscrupulous, Dr. Bramhan, the generous, and Evelyn Carson, the lover. These persons have become known as "the three worst men in South Africa" on account of their adventures with women, but two of them prove that they are entitled to less sinister description. Through them the unique situation arises of a young woman married to a man without knowing it, while the man she loves and who loves her believes his one meeting with her was only a dream. The unraveling of the original plot is one of the most fascinating of the screen stories of the year.

SEPTEMBER IS HERE.

September, you appeal to all,
Both young and old, lordly and lowly,
You stuff the hay-mow, trough and stall,
Till horse and cow's as roly-poly
As pigs is, slopped on buttermilk
And brand, shipstuf and 'tater-peelin'—
And folks, too, feelin' fine as silk
With all their feelin'!

—[Riley.]

September, our first autumn month, is here, and will be a very eventful one, with the opening of the city and county schools, and the return of students to their school duties. It will mean a sundering of home ties in many a home, as it will also mark the departure of drafted men for army service "somewhere."

On account of war conditions the summer has passed very quietly socially, and there was very little entertaining, as nearly every moment was devoted to Red Cross work.

The only social events of much importance were the annual dances in Paris and Millersburg. The dance at the Masonic Temple last night was in the nature of a farewell to students leaving for the various schools and colleges.

FORMER PARIS MAN IN OIL FIELDS.

Mr. John C. Dowd, of Irvine, was a visitor in Paris yesterday. Mr. Dowd was formerly connected with the Paris Gas & Electric Co. He recently invested in oil lands in Estill county, which are yielding handsome returns. He has three wells, which are producing 25, 15 and 5 barrels per day respectively, and one dry well. He recently bought in another well on new ground, on which pumping is in progress. Mr. Dowd is very optimistic regarding the future of Kentucky oil fields, and especially so regarding the Estill fields.

PARIS MAN INJURED.

Mr. Charles Blount, of Paris, received a telegram from Hamilton, Ohio, stating that his father, Mr. James Blount, who with his family recently moved there from Paris, had suffered a fractured skull as the result of a fall. The telegram gave no details.

STOCK, CROP, ETC.

—Trainer James Hukill, of Paris, states that the J. W. Fuller string of horses, including Roy, Tokay, Col. Marchmont, and Beautiful Girl, will be shipped back to Lexington after the meeting closes at St. Louis.

A. S. Thompson & Son, of near Paris, sold the past week the following number of rams from their flock of Southdown sheep: To D. S. Parrish, of near Clintonville, 5 yearlings; to W. H. Gay, of Clark county, 3 yearlings; to Lew Taylor, Paris, 4 yearlings; to Benj. Woodford, Sr., of near Paris, 2 yearlings; to Frank Collins, of Paris, 5 yearlings.

A great man's greatness lies in his ability to interpret his age.

Now is the Time to Pack Your Eggs for Winter Use.

Use Salicilate of Soda (Liquid Water Glass)

The best proportion is one part of the Water Glass to from ten to twelve parts of recently boiled water. Boil the water, let it cool, then add the water glass. Mix it well with the water. You may then place the eggs in the solution. You do not have to put all the eggs that you want to keep in the solution at one time, as you can keep adding eggs as you get them fresh.

We can furnish you with the liquid water glass in any quantities at the following prices:
